TURKS ENTER NEUTRAL ZONE.

Warning by British Commander.

(Reuter's Service.)

London, September 25.
The entry of Kemalist cavalry into the neutral zone is officially announced in London, where it is stated that the Turks numbered between 10,000 and 15,000. They advanced in the direction of Chanak, believing that the British had withdrawn. They retired from the zone immediately, however, when informed that the British were still in possession of the zone.

Friendly Meeting Between British and Turkish Commanders.

Later,
a meeting between General Shuttleworth and the commander of the Kemalist detachment which entered the neutral zone was held at Chanak. The latter immediately agreed to withdraw from the zone, declaring that the Kemalists did not desire to go to war with the British Empire.

Constantinople Government Offers to Retire.

Constantinople, September 25.
It is reported that the Grand Vizier has notified Ankara that the Constantinople Government is prepared to resign, in order not to burden the Kemalists.

[The Constantinople Administration is the Turkish Government which the Kemalists calling themselves the Nationalists, are the Government of Turkey.]

Turks Warned on Re-entering Neutral Zone.

Constantinople, September 25.
Turkish cavalry, provided with machine-guns, re-entered the neutral zone at Chanak. General Harrison instructed the Ankara representative to request Kemal Pasha to order the withdrawal, and to allow a reasonable time for the communication to reach the Turkish commander, after which the consequences will devolve upon himself. The Kemalists are giving no answer.

General Harrison controls aeroplanes which can be used for aerial bombardment, although at present it is considered that the Turks do not possess machines to extremes. The French Consul, Commissioner endeavouring to influence Kemal towards peace.

A Turkish Request.

London, September 25.
A message from Constantinople at 11 p.m. today says the Anglo representative states that as Erenkoy was occupied before the receipt of the Allied Note, the Turkish Commander is not longer than forty-eight hours in order to consult his superiors.

British Mobile Column Takes Up Position.

The Turkish cavalry is estimated at two thousand sabres. A British mobile column has taken up a position halfway to Erebus ready for eventualities.

Britain's Contribution to Relief of Refugees.

Geneva, September 25.
The Assembly of the League of Nations resolved to ask the governments represented to contribute to the relief of the Greek and Armenian refugees from Smyrna after a speech from Lord Balfour in which he stated that Britain was giving £50,000.

Dr. Nansen and M. Ador announced that the Russian Relief Commission and the International Red Cross Committee respectively were taking steps to relieve the refugees.

L. O. N. to Hold a Watching Brief.

Geneva, September 25.
The Assembly adopted the Drafting Committee's resolution announced in the message of the 22nd inst. expressing confidence in the Council without in any way interfering with negotiations in connection with the projected Near East conference. The Assembly will take any measures that are opportune and justified by the state of the negotiations in order to meet the unanimous wish of the Assembly for a prompt return to peace.

[The previous message stated that the League plan was to get in communication with the Powers, when, if they spoke with harmony, the League would have strong moral authority for mediation.]

South Africa's Attitude.

Pretoria, September 25.
The Government's reply to Britain's appeal for support in the Near East, opines that the position has altered materially for the better, and that there is no longer need of active intervention by South Africa, but declares that the latter favours maintenance of freedom of the Straits under the League of Nations.

INDIA'S FISCAL SYSTEM.

Mild Form of Protection Recommended.

London, September 25.
The report of the Fiscal Commission appointed last year by the Government of India recommends the adoption of a policy of protection, to be applied with discrimination. It says any general system of preference to British products would involve a serious burden which it would not be reasonable for India to shoulder, while the facilities of an advantage to India from preferences granted to her exports would be limited, but India may be in a position in certain cases to grant preferences which would assist British industries and not cause any appreciable economic loss to India. Any preferences granted to the United Kingdom should be a free gift, while as regards other parts of the Empire the principle of reciprocity should be followed.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COUNCIL.

More Council Members.

Geneva, September 25.
The Assembly of the League of Nations, with one dissentient, namely M. Loudon (Netherlands) passed the Council's proposal for increase in the number of non-permanent members of the Council from four to six, on the ground that the widening was necessary in order to secure representation of different political groups and nationalities. M. Struycken (Netherlands) contended that the increase would destroy the equilibrium and was contrary to Article of the Covenant.

L. O. N. AND THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

No Foreign Women in Licensed Houses.

Geneva, September 25.
The Assembly of the League of Nations passed a resolution stating that as the system of State regulation existing in many countries was thought in many quarters to encourage the traffic in women, the advisory committee should be asked by the Council to consider whether, pending abolition of the system, it could be agreed that no foreign woman be employed or carry on the profession of a licensed house.

U.S. BASEBALL CHAMPIONS.

New York Wins National League.

(Reuter's Service.)

New York, September 25.
New York has won the National Baseball League Championship by defeating St. Louis by 5 to 4.

SIKI'S RISE TO FAME.

Suggested Match with Wills.

New York, September 25.
An American boxing promoter has cabled "Battling" Siki offering a purse of $150,000 for a fifteen-round bout between Siki and the American negro heavy weight, Wills, on October 12th.
The Paris Receipts.

Paris, September 25.
The receipts at the Carpentier-Siki fight, totalled 652,000 francs.

FRENCH SEAMEN ON STRIKE.

Passengers Held Up at Marseilles.

London, September 25.
Eight thousand passengers, mostly for North Africa, are held up at Marseilles owing to a strike of seamen against the abolition of the eight-hour day.

GERMAN BONDS FOR BELGIUM.

Paris, September 25.
Germany has handed over bonds for 47,000,000 gold marks maturing February 1923 and for 49,000,000 maturing March 1923 payable to Belgium's order through the Bank of England and guaranteed by the Reichsbank.

BOMBAY STEEL WORKERS' STRIKE.

Bombay, September 25.
It is reported that 20,000 men are affected by the strike at the Tata Steel Works.

V.R.C. FETE.

Reference to Interport Result

The series of night fetes held under the auspices of the Victoria Recreation Club was brought to a successful conclusion last night when there was a considerable attendance which included the General Officer Commanding the China Forces and Lady Fowler.
The programme was noteworthy for the inclusion of the half-mile championship of the Colony which was contested by five swimmers, of whom D. Lyon, an Interport champion, proved himself the most conspicuous. Lyon was absent, being on a visit to Canton, but the other favourite for the event, J. Johnstone, for some reason did not participate. Thus with Ramsay and May left in the running, Lyon had no great difficulty in carrying off the championship, which was contested inside the bath. It was noticed that young May displayed great promise of becoming a first-rate aquatic competitor, and his tenacity in doing the whole thirty-seven and a half lengths of the course and in putting on a good spurt in his endeavour to overtake the "interport man in the last laps of the race was a remarkable one for his age.

At the start the two other competitors, Gunner McDade and Baldwin, were well placed, but the fourteenth length had not been negotiated before one retired after the other, leaving only Ramsay and May to give a race for Lyons. May by half time was a length and a half behind the Interport swimmer, and dropped back a further half length as the strain began to tell on the less seasoned swimmers.
With two whole lengths to make up, May pluckily exerted himself for the final effort but the handicap was a big one and though he succeeded in decreasing it by a few yards, the eventual result was never in doubt. Ramsay was two lengths behind May when the race concluded. Time—D. Lyons, 12 min.
46 secs.; A. May 13 min. 45 secs.

The proceedings were brought to a conclusion by a dance; the music for which was contributed by the Blue Jazz Band.

Two Lengths Handicap (Boys):

members only: 1. W. Tillery; 2. W.

CHINA'S FINANCES.

Situation to be Made Known.

A Peking telegram states that the President has instructed the new Premier to make known to the public the actual financial situation and to see that military expenditure is equally shared by the provinces.

Two Lengths' Handicap (Girls):
1. Ruby Choo; 2. T. May.
Four Lengths' Handicap (Members): 1. S. H. Garrod; 2. G.
Razavet.

Two Lengths' Handicap (Ladies):
1. C. Smith; 2. E. Bell.
High Dive from Top Platform:
1. G. A. Jack (91 pts.); 2. W. G.
Urquhart (90 pts.).

In the Water Polo match, Buschaert's (Blue) team beat Jack's (White) team by four goals to one.
Buschaert and Mason each scored two for the winners and Jack obtained the losers' solitary point.

Before the prizes were distributed to the winners, Mr. W.
Lyon, Chairman of the Club, made a brief speech in the course of which he said: "Whilst we are on the subject of the Interport contests with Shanghai, I would like to congratulate our men on their success in Shanghai. The last time we had our night fete I expressed the hope that the flag we sent up there would come back and also that we should bring back the Shanghai flag. I regret we have not done it. I should like to congratulate our men, however, for they won seven events out of eleven, and all classical events. I regret very much there was a little controversy over the water polo match. Well, gentlemen, the position is that the referees' decision had to hold and we, as the General Committee of the V.R.C., must abide by their decision. We hope that Shanghai will come down next year and again we hope then to get our own flag back again."

"MOTOR JUICE."

Why Hongkong Pays
High Prices.

Many reasons why the price of gasoline is higher here than in the United States were given to a Telegraph reporter, who called on Mr. N. L. Watson, general manager of the Asiatic Petroleum Company in Hongkong, this morning, in consequence of a complaint regarding this commodity made by a correspondent signing himself "Cheaper Pep."

"Cheaper Pep" says he is informed that gasoline in New York costs 26 cents (gold) or (at exchange 51) 45 1/2 cents H.K. per gallon. He is paying $1 H.K. per American gallon.

Mr. Watson said he had not gone into these figures, but he told the reporter that there were several reasons for the price being higher in Hongkong. The main reason is that this Colony naturally handles much smaller quantities than America. With greater bulk handling costs are, of course, much lower.

The A.P.C., as a matter of fact, Mr. Watson explained, do not get their petroleum from the places mentioned by "Cheaper Pep," Java and Burma; they get it from Borneo and Sumatra. Standard oil get their spirit from the States. Our informant claims that the gasoline sold here is of a far superior quality to that sold in U.S.A. America exports her best, and the quality that Hongkong gets would be difficult to obtain in the country of origin.

Another factor is that the retailers in Hongkong expect a larger profit than those in the United States, and with the stringent regulations in force here, godown and shipping expenses also are very high.

With regard to the price of petrol in Singapore, Mr. Watson thought it worked out about the same as in Hongkong.

SWATOW RELIEF FUND.

Schoolboys' Good Work.

Sunday at the World Theatre was the opportunity of the Ellis Kadoorie School to do what it could to help the Swatow Relief Fund. The theatre was packed with schoolboys and their friends who came to help their fellow-men in Swatow and to be amused by the leading burlesque of the screen. This effort to raise funds for the benefit of the sufferers in Swatow was most successful. The management of the theatre kindly placed its magnificent building, with an excellent comedy programme, at the disposal of the school for two special matinees, one at noon and the other at 2.15 p.m. The school boys had been able to sell a great number of the tickets, so much so that the receipts for seats alone amounted to $745.45, while refreshments, smokes and confectionery were very well patronised. The sale realised $104.55, thus making a total of $850.00 in one afternoon. The school is most grateful to the management of the theatre for placing at its disposal the On Lok Aerated Water Company for cold drinks, to the Alexandra Cafe for refreshments, to Nan Yang Brothers for smokes and to M. Y. San for confectionery.

TYPHOON WARNING.

SHIP'S OFFICER ROBBER.

Victimised by Ricksha Coolies.

Healman Tuorson, a Norwegian ship's officer, has an interesting story to tell of the thieving properties of some of our ricksha coolies. At 10 o'clock last night the Norwegian took a ricksha with the intention of returning to the Seamen's Institute. The coolie, however, took him in the opposite direction and eventually turned into Water Street, where others, the officer says, were waiting to rob him. First of all, Healman's pockets were emptied of their contents—a pocket book, two one-dollar notes, his mate's certificate and other private papers. Then he was taken out of the ricksha and dumped on to the roadway where he "came to".
The police are now endeavouring to trace the ricksha, the number of which unfortunately was not known to the Norwegian.

The winner of the decathlon in the sixth Far Eastern Olympic Games, to be held in Osaka next May, will be presented with two beautiful cups, one by H. R. H.
The Prince of Wales and the other by the Crown Prince of Japan.

H. M. S. Bee, with Rear-Admiral MacLachlan, C.B., on board, has left the Huangpu for a cruise up the Yangtze. For the time being she is proceeding no farther than Nanking, and from there Admiral MacLachlan is to make a trip to Peking. It is anticipated that the Bee will be away from Shanghai for about a month.

An old China hand recently passed away at home in the person of Mr. Edward Pettit, formerly of Messrs. Deacon and Co. Canton, and Messrs. E. and A.
Deacon, London. Mr. Pettit died at the ripe age of 85 years at his residence, Broadwater, Ostlands Park, Weybridge, during August.
He left Canton nearly 40 years ago.

A case that had its origin this morning was disposed of in good time by the police and Magistrate.
At 9.30 this morning a thief who snatched a fountain pen from Captain Patton, of the steamer Glymont, was arrested after a chase by the owner in Pedder Street and handed over to the custody of Detective-Sergeant Neill. At 10.30 he was brought before the Magistrate (Mr. E. W.
Hamilton) and by 11 o'clock he was safely lodged in gaol, having been sentenced to a term of six weeks.

According to an announcement made by the Italian Legation, the King of Italy has conferred upon the following five Roman Catholic missionary bishops the Knight Companionship of the Order of the Crown of Italy:
—Monsignors Agapito Fiorentini (northern Shansi), Luigi Calza (western Hunan), Eugenio Massi (central Shensi), Domenico Poz-zoni (southern Kwangtung), and Gian Pellegrino Mondaini (southern Hunan).

A notice was published in the Chinese press at Shanghai on the 32nd inst. by that branch of the Chinese Seamen's Union instructing all members to handover the increase in remuneration received for the past three months to the Union for it upkeep, together with their membership fees, which must be paid as from January 1 last year.
The money handed over to the Union will be used for the insurance of a badge, a certificate, and insurance for the members.

HONGKONG'S PETITION.

Irregularities Caused it to be Returned.

About a year ago a petition for Constitutional Reform was drawn up. It was signed by a number of residents in the Colony and sent Home. Practically nothing has been heard of the matter since, and this morning a Telegraph reporter called on Mr.
C. G. Alabaster, K.C., the Vice-President of the C.R.A., to ascertain how matters now stand.

The petition was presented to Parliament by Colonel John Ward, M.P., but apparently there were some irregularities in the way it was made out, the press-man learned. The wording was printed, instead of being written, and there were other details which were not in accordance with the correct procedure. The petition was accordingly returned to Hongkong and the matters in question put right. It was sent Home again, but when it arrived Parliament was on vacation.

A message has been received in Hongkong stating that the petition will be presented again at the next session.

We learn from another quarter that the irregularities in the petition were of a "red-tape" character, it being necessary, in order to comply with requirements, that each sheet of signatures should bear the prayer of the petitioners. As a result, the whole petition, which has been written out in longhand, is now in the form of a roll several yards long.

A letter has, we understand, been received from Colonel Ward stating that the Colonial Office is considering the petition.

TRADE OF CANTON.

Review of 1921.

We take the following from the report of the Chinese Maritime Customs, just to hand:

Local.—Revival of trade since the cessation of hostilities in Europe has been more marked during the year under review than in 1920, and the trade of Canton, while hampered as usual by internal disorders of one kind and another, has nevertheless flourished. Trade depression in 1920 caused mostly through the Wanchow conflict in that year, might well have been repeated, because civil war was renewed again in June 1921. The scene of hostilities, however, was in the neighbouring province of Kwangsi. The Southern Government was faced with a series of strikes; struggles between capital and labour were fought on the "more pay and less work" principle with partial success.
It is, however, not to be wondered at, when one realises that the Chinese press has given full publicity to similar labour agitation in Europe of late years and much strike-mongering libel has been distributed; nor can it be questioned that the cost of living in China has gradually but steadily increased. The best rice now costs about 10 cents a catty, almost double what the same quality cost a few years ago. Such inflated prices from the working classes could not but reflect adversely on trade.
Climate conditions were rather unfavourable to both the rice harvest and silk trade. Rain was scarce in the spring, excessive during the summer, and was followed by a drought in the autumn that continued until the end of the year. Although Kwangtung has two harvests a year, the yield was only 90 per cent of a normal year. As a result of the struggle with Kwangsi, country districts have suffered very much at the hands of disbanded or defeated soldiers, in addition to a large quota of pirates. Many of the more secluded villages are now completely deserted.

A Regrettable Feature

2. Revenue.—The gross import value of our foreign trade for the years was HK. $1,300,000. The gross export value of our foreign trade is HK. $1,300,000. The highest on record since the end of the European War. A regrettable feature of the Revenue tables is a fall in return under outward trans-ship, none having been collected since the year 1915. This is undoubtedly due to the continuance of a state of civil war, necessitating direct taxation for military expenditure at inland places of production, particularly on mineral products, and to the liberality of rebates.

3. Shipping.—The tables do not show any great changes in the aggregate except under the heading of small craft. American tonnage has, however, increased appreciably by the arrival of ocean ships with cargo for the Texas Company, now directly represented in this port. Japanese ocean tonnage has quadrupled its figures, owing to the scheduled runs of the Nishiki Kisen Kaisha, a line of steamers operated by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha before regular running was contemplated.
Launch traffic with Hongkong, however, shows an advance of 35,000 tons, spread over 1,000 vessels. The commanding of Chinese ships for military service enhanced figures under the Portuguese flag very considerably, although the general total for the Chinese flag, comprising for the most part only the ships of the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company, remains about the same. Under inland Steam Navigation Rules the American flag shows an advance of 22,000 tons, which is partly due to lighters of the Standard Oil Company distributing stock to inland markets, but also due to the transfer of Chinese ships to the American flag to avoid compulsion from local governments for military service.
For similar reasons there appears an advance of 13,000 tons under the French flag, the protection of which was apparently needed by silk firms trading with the interior. The total increase over 1920 for inland navigation is 3,000 entries and clearances, with a decrease in tonnage of 20,000 tons, all under the Chinese flag, which is to be regretted from a national point of view.

A Profitable Year.

4. Foreign Goods.—Imports, Direct and Coastwise.—The amount of foreign goods imported from coast ports at Canton is very small, 10 per cent of Canton's foreign trade is brought in by the regular Hongkong river steamers, and the net value of all foreign trade was HK. $1,300,000. The import of foreign goods coastwise into Canton is almost negligible. It is, of course, true that a certain quantity of Shanghai's foreign stock reaches the local market through coasting steamers, but its proportion to direct trade with foreign ports through Hongkong is probably less than 1 per cent of the total foreign imports, the remaining 99 per cent covering Formosan and Sumatra direct trade. Very satisfactory advances appear under foreign piece goods, the more marked items being grey and white shirtings, which show an increase of 130,000 pieces, followed by Italians and Venetians of the plain fast black variety, which show an increase of 50,000 pieces. Under woollen and cotton goods, alpaca advanced by 25,000 yards and suitings by 50,000 yards, followed by woollen blankets, which increased by 50,000 pounds.
Demand exceeded the supply in almost all branches of the cotton piece goods trade, and merchants have accordingly had a rather profitable year. The consumption of woollen and cotton mixtures was unusually large, principally because the amount of pure woollen goods obtainable was inadequate. The trade in cotton yarn improved much during the year, and the cost per bale of fine cotton yarn ranged from $70 to $100, while the coarser qualities realised $170 to $190 per bale. It is interesting to note, however, that the Indian commodity decreased by two to one on the increase of the Japanese yarn, the former falling off some 15,000 pieces against an advance of 5,000 pieces with the latter. This does not indicate a weaker market, but shows rather that speculative tendencies, as prevalent when exchange was high, have given way to sounder commercial dealings. Under metals, iron bars and rods show an advance of 20,000 pounds, mostly used in reinforced concrete construction.
Cable, tinned plates for making cans, and locally show an imcrease of 5,000 pounds. Proceeding down the list of articles imported, hardware gives an advance of 15,000 pieces and cement 10,000 bags. Green Island cement appears to be doing the locally made material's exports and the Straits Settlements.

Rice Profitable.

The famine in North China, which prevented Yangtze rice reaching Canton, accounts for an advance of 10,000 piculs in the Annam cereal and the profiteering which has brought its retail price to its present high figure. Coal was very much cheaper owing to the supply having exceeded the figures for 1920 by 50,000 tons; 2,000 tons of this was from Tonkin for use in local distilleries and lime-kilns, while a fair portion of the amount imported came from Formosa.
Under oil and dyes there is an advance in value of about HK. $15, 000. About 60 per cent of these dyes were imported from Germany.
During the first half of the year the market was very good, and merchants were said to have made considerable profits on the German mark exchange, in which goods were ordered. The foreign firms locally interested, however, quoted prices in sterling from July, and the spite of dyes rose considerably. In price of this large quantities were imported to meet market demands, but profits during the first half of the year were evened up by December, so that this trade for the whole year has not been very satisfactory.
Weaving machinery shows progress, it must be borne in mind, when comparing figures with 1920 for other classes, that that year saw included a heavy consignment for the local arsenal, which has not yet been fully installed. Kerosene oil advanced by some 1 million gallons, mostly American. Samatra and Borneo brands find a market more readily inland than in Canton and much in demand is fuel for motorboats fitted with crude oil engines.
The import of white sugar during the year was very remarkable and came from both Formosa and Java, production at the latter place having been so excessive that its export abroad was necessary. Merchants therefore took advantage of it to stock inland marts, especially in North River districts, with a plentiful supply, and dealers are said to have had a profitable year.
Imports, consequently, exceed the figures for 1920 by as much as 540,000 piculs. Another item of interest is foreign underwear, the general use of which is increasing a popular favour.

The Export Trade.

5. Chinese Goods.—Exports Abroad and Coastwise (including Re-exports).—The net value of Canton's export trade for the year is HK. $1,300,000, a figure that exceeds the combined value of the foreign and Chinese imports by 1 million taels. This is due to the silk trade of the port, which has had a very fair year. The export of antimony ore advanced 30,000 piculs, but wolfram, an important item during the late war in Europe, has fallen about 2,000 piculs. The quantity exported was merely the balance of 1920 stock, and prevailing prices throughout the year were so low that dealers complain even of having lost on the year's average. A more regrettable shrinkage of 17,000 piculs under cash-blanca. Values also fell, and have not yet recovered, together with bundles of the broken quality, have been gradually declining to $5.50 and $5 respectively. Competition was very keen owing to the existence of heavy stocks, which dealers were anxious to clear even at considerable loss. Fresh and preserved eggs exceeded the previous year's exports by 11 million piculs and the local fair trade has also had a boom. Under leather there is an advance of 21,000 piculs.
A very large quantity of this, however, is shipped from Singapore by junk and re-exported through the Maritime Customs for cheaper tariff treatment. Shipments of Canton cement were 55,000 piculs in excess of the figures for 1920. The cheapness of foreign white sugar explains the large diminution of 11,000 piculs in Canton's export of brown sugar, as output demand was met by the overflow from Java. The mat and mattress trade has had rather doubtful success. There is a decrease under both headings, and matting, with a shrinkage of over 3 million yards, makes the export figures for the year less than half of those for 1920. America, however, when the year opened, had a large stock on hand, and special taxation introduced by the United States Government further depressed the trade.
An increase of pay had to be granted to local mat workers during the fall, but mats advanced somewhat in price to meet European demand, so that dealers were able to come out on the right side. The match industry in Canton progresses very favorably. Shipments advanced

50,000 gross, against a very fair decrease of similar imports from Japan. Most of the raw materials necessary to feed the trade, however, come from that country, but of late wood splints and shavings have been procured locally, the work on which is rather poor though serviceable.

New Factories.

Likien taxation injures inland trade, yet the trade has done well, and two new factories came into existence during the year, the Tung Tai and the Chung Kwok, both situated in Ho-nam. A third, the Hing Ah still under construction, will soon be opened in the same district, bringing the number of local factories up to 12. In silk business was good throughout the whole year and witnessed some heavy buying equip-ed with extensive forward contracts exhausting local stock, so that the sixth crop of cocoons was sold out while still in the reeling stage.
Transactions covered about 55,000 bales, 37,000 bales of which were for America and the remainder for Europe. Prices ranged from $300 early in the year to $1,550 per bale towards the close, covering all styles. The latter figure, however, resulted in 20,000 bales of Japanese silk going to New York. Dealers locally, having made a profit of about $200 per bale, could afford to be log, so that the lessening demand from America was not of much moment, the having overbought, and only replacement of shortage was required. The heavy rains of June quarter did not do much harm, but drought and an insufficiency of mulberry leaves during December quarter ruined the seventh crop. The silk year ends in April, and from reports to hand Japanese firms hold a very fair share of the American demand, in-spite of the fact that Canton quotations are highly sensitive to the Yokohama market. While re-normal discount per bale locally is from $40 per picul, it rose as high as $100 during the March quarter.
Short reels are mostly in favour everywhere, but a Lyons demand for long reels in the September quarter forced prices up to $1,520, due to the unreasonable demands of local spinners and an unexpected jump in French exchange. By the end of the year stock was practically exhausted, as, owing to the failure of the seventh crop through the drought, 75 per cent. of the silatures had ceased work. To local dealers this was no doubt more or less satisfactory, as with Yokohama in competition, had the seventh crop been good, and with a weakened American demand, prices must have considerably fallen.

Imports from Treaty Ports.

(6.) Imports.—The net value of Chinese imports from treaty ports is HK. $1,300,000, mainly with Yangtze ports through Shanghai.
West River trade forming a small portion. Chinese piece goods improved somewhat, notably shirtings, which, in competition with the foreign article, advanced 11,000 pieces and nankeens by 5,000 piculs.
Chinese raw cotton, generally imported from Shanghai for the manufacture of quilts, shows an increase of 15,000 piculs. Prices ranged from $20 to $30 per bale of 1 picul, and the trade has been very profitable throughout the year. As regards native cotton cloth, while most of it comes from Shanghai, Tientsin cloth has also been fairly well represented in the local market. Prices, however, were inevitably higher than the Canton-made "patriotic" cloth, at a great deal of the northern product was re-exported to Kwang-tung and the outputs of Kwangtung.
Importations of Yangtze rice fell about 3,000,000 piculs, causing high prices locally with but small profit.
Imports from the neighbouring province of Kwangsi were only available towards the end of the year, and Annam rice had to be substituted. Even with two good harvests, which was not the case during the year under review, Kwang-tung, it is said, can only feed its population for two months out of 12. Importations of pig iron from the Hanyang Ironworks increased some 17,000 piculs, and the imports of antimony regulas were 400 piculs to nil in 1920, owing to shortage of the ore locally. Beans, beancake, and bean oil all show considerable advances, and tea increased to 10,000 piculs, mostly green tea from Hangchow. Under tobacco we find a rise of 15,000 piculs. The Chiao Hing cigars advanced somewhat in popular favour during the year, but two other companies, which do not appear to be making much headway. As regards locally made cigarettes, three companies, the Kwangtung Hwa Chi'ang and Ching Hing, working in competition with the British-American Tobacco Company and the Nanyang Brothers, are having a hard fight to keep afloat water.

OBJECTIONS TO M. JOFFE.

The Chinese press is starting to give a good deal of attention to the presence of M. Joffe, the Soviet Envoy, in China, and some of the statements contained in its reports have not so far received notice by foreign news agencies. The Sinwampao, for instance, states that a member of the Diplomatic Body has approached Dr. Wellington Koo, Minister of Foreign Affairs, with a suggestion that as M. Joffe has arrived in China for the purpose of spreading propaganda, steps should be taken to deport him.

HONGKONG, 26th Sept., 1922.

INFORMERS.

If an insight could be obtained into the methods employed by arms runners in this Colony, whose activities have an important bearing on the epidemic of serious crime from which we are suffering, no doubt many startling revelations would be forthcoming. Recent big seizures firmly establish the point that the importation of firearms is handled, if not by syndicates with extensive connections, then by individuals whose financial means give them unusual facilities for carrying on the nefarious trade. Associated with this traffic are certain problems peculiar to the Colony which necessitate much of the spare work in detection being entrusted to native informers. The Sui Yick piracy at one time promised to yield some interesting disclosures, but such is the fear of the informers at having their identity revealed that a thorough sweep-up of the whole gang is stated to have been impracticable.

Informers, of course, have to be paid for the work they do. And as the risks are sometimes great, the payment has often had to be considerable. We hear, however, that recently there has been a revision of the scale of rewards paid to these informers. If all that is told us is true, the revision is very much in the downward direction. It is stated that in a recent case in which three revolvers were seized and the convicted man fined $500, the sole reward that the informer got for his work was $10. There are, of course, two sides to this informer question, for, whilst quite recognising the advisability of making the inducement sufficiently substantial to lead to concrete results, there is always the possibility to be considered of informers framing-up cases for the sake of the reward. The whole question is surrounded with difficulties, but the point occurs to us that if informers are really necessary, care should be taken not to cut the monetary reward down to such a fine point as to render the doing of really valuable work problematical. It would be ideal, of course, if the paying of native informers could be dispensed with altogether, but it seems that that is an impossibility with conditions as they now are.

The Football Season.

The local football season is shortly due to open, and enthusiasts are looking forward to a very full and varied programme of contests. According to arrangements, the 1st. League fixture-list will open on the first Saturday in October, when seven matches are down for decision. This, however, is contingent on the return of the naval ships from the North, but in any event there will be some League games played on that date. The junior division will not start their programme until a fortnight later, but from then onwards there is prospect of no fewer than fifteen League matches every Saturday, to say nothing of mid-week contests. So there will be no lack of sport this season. What is more, there will be much rivalry between the naval, military and civilian combinations, and The King's (a very sporting regiment) will be all out to win high honours. They have kept up "soccer" all through the summer and should therefore be in fine fettle, but they will find other teams with equal determination to do well, and some really fine struggles should be witnessed in what promises to be one of the best football seasons Hongkong has ever had.

Chinese Feminism.

Tidings of a female emancipation movement in China come to hand from time to time. One or two reports give the idea that it is going ahead with astonishing rapidity, or rather is exhibiting itself in an astonishing shape. At any rate, within recent weeks Chinese women have been reported as pirates and as bandit leaders. Somewhere off the coast of Shanghai or Kiangsu a piratical junk made a descent upon a trading craft when it was discovered that the assailants were women, and it took some sharp firing to send them off. A little later we read of two women as leaders of a raiding party that was infesting the train line somewhere in Central China. Now our Peking correspondent writes that the "bandit chief," Mrs. Lo Hon-cho, is operating with her followers along the coast in that quarter. Possibly this is the lady who declared a vendetta against a rival general who had taken her husband's life. If so, her motive is understandable. But this cannot excuse the murdering, plundering, burning, and kidnapping that is said to follow in her wake. Apparently when Chinese women assert themselves they throw all restraint to the winds. Indeed, judging by these manifestations, feminism in China is assuming a most unfeminine form.

Georges' Defeat.

Eminently sensational was the result of the contest for the light-heavy-weight championship. The defeat of the French idol would of itself bring the outcome under the manner of the defeat had a decided element of the sensational. "Battling" Siki, the Senegalese, has been known for some time as a fairly good performer—a very good one, according to some accounts; but his victory over Carpenter must have come as a surprise to most people. At first the contest was awarded to the Frenchman on the ground that Siki had thrice attempted to trip his adversary, and evidently Georges sustained a sprained ankle, whatever the cause. This decision, however, was reversed by the judges, who ruled that when Carpenter went down in the sixth round he had been knocked out, not fouled. According to the report, the Senegalese certainly had the better of the contest. Is the victor a new wonder, or has Georges passed his meridian? The practice of having a judge over the referee prevails in England in tournament series, but is unknown in championship contests.

SOUTH CHINA AFFAIRS.

Defence of the West River.

Our Canton correspondent states that owing to General Lau Chan-wan having returned to Wuchow to settle Kwangsi affairs, the military authorities have ordered Leun Hung-kai to take his forces to the West River for defence duty, with Shihning as his headquarters. Our correspondent further reports that the magistrates of the Yang Yuen and Hook Kwong districts have resumed office. They have reported to the Canton Government on the hardships suffered by the people during the fighting between the Cantonese forces and the Expeditionary Army and have requested immediate relief for the sufferers.

DAY BY DAY.

THERE IS NOTHING LIKE TAKING SCANDAL BY THE BEARD, AND TREATING THE OPINION OF THE WORLD WITH HEROIC DIFFERENCE.—Le Sage.

There was again a clean bill of health in the Colony yesterday.

The Empress of Russia is due in Hongkong at 6 a.m. on Thursday.

From August 23rd. to September 2th, there were three cases of rabies notified in Hongkong.

There are complaints of numerous robberies on Honam island by gangs of robbers said to be armed with rifles of the latest pattern.

The steamer Shansi, which arrived in port this morning, reports sighting a fishing junk sunk in Lat. 22°35 north, Long. 115°55 east.

Orders have been given in Canton for the pulling down of all notices before the 30th, instant. Those violating the order will be severely punished.

According to the Canton Times, Mr. Lung Wing-bin, who recently resigned the post of Commissioner of the Water Police in Canton, is seeking a position as a school teacher.

A powerful drama, "The Heart of Juanita," is being screened at the World Theatre to-night and to-morrow. It features Beatriz Michelena, who acts with great dramatic force.

News has been received that the M.B.K. steamer Kiso Maru, recently reported to be in distress owing to a broken propeller shaft, is being towed to Saigon by the s.s. Taikoo Wan-yi.

The engagement is announced of Mr. H. H. Lennox of Messrs. Jardine, Matheson & Co. Ltd., Peking, and Miss Dorcas Bankham, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Bankham, of Shanghai.

The China Navigation Company's vessel Kwangtung, running between Swatow and Bangkok, has just arrived in port, having had to put back from sea on the 20th, owing to bad weather. She was in ballast.

Sir John Walsham, former Inspector of Chinese Labour at Garmistown, South Africa, is passing through on the P. and O. s.s. Macedonia, going to London. Count J. Molke, from Shanghai to Marseilles, is a passenger on the same liner.

The health return for the past week shows six cases of enteric fever (one British and the rest Chinese), as well as one Chinese case of plague. No mortality figures are given. There were, amongst non-notifiable diseases, two deaths from influenza—one Portuguese and one Chinese.

"Married Life," the diverting five-reel Mack Sennett comedy which features Ben Turpin, the cross-eyed comedian, in the chief role, is being shown at the Coronet for the last time to-day. A particularly fine film version of "The Last of the Mohicans" will be to-morrow's attraction and Anita Stewart will be seen in "Harriet and The Piper" on Thursday.

Lao Sing who went, as he expressed it, "to cool himself" on a stroll in Bowen Road, returned last evening with the complaint that he was rough-handled by three robbers off the aqueduct near Wanchai Gap and robbed of a wrist watch valued at $35 and money of the amount of $6. The men pretended that they were police searchers and held the victim by each arm whilst the process of relieving him of his riches took place.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Purves, of Kowloon, will join in congratulating them on the celebration of their silver wedding, their marriage having taken place at the Union Church, Hongkong, on September 25th, 1897. Last evening, Mr. and Mrs. Purves entertained a number of their old friends in commemoration of the event, and many were the felicitations extended them. Mr. T. Neave, Superintendent Engineer of the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co., proposed their health in a very happy speech, to which Mr. Purves suitably replied.

News of the death of Mr. James Ross, Acting Postal Commissioner, stationed at Chengtu, has been received. Death occurred from heart failure, and the announcement came as a great shock to his associates in the Chinese Postal Service, with whom he was very popular on account of his kindly disposition and native wit. Born in the town of Dingwall in the north of Scotland, 40 years ago, Mr. Ross joined the Chinese Postal Service in January, 1905, and received several Chinese decorations.

"POWDER PUFFS."

Coming to Hongkong.

Hongkong theatre-goers will be interested to learn that Mr. Jimmy Young, well-known as an advance agent for Bandman's, is bringing here shortly a new company of entertainers known as "The Powder Puffs." A bright and snappy entertainment in which music and humour predominate is what the Company specialises in. Besides Miss Nita Corri, a clever comedienne, the lady members include Miss Susanne Verney (danseuse), Miss Sybil Desmond (soloist) and Miss Muriel White (at the piano); the other members being Mr. Will Blackwell (banjoist), Mr. Bert Hamill (comedian), Mr. Edward de Kurylo (modern dancer) and Mr. Conrad Layton (baritone). The Company carries pretty scenic effects, which add greatly to the production.

STAR THEATRE.

A fine drama of the frozen north, "The Daughter of the Wolf," is the new attraction at the Star Theatre. It is a play in which the human passions are given free play, and the only elevating factor is the clean love between a man and a woman whose lives are inextricably bound up. Audiences at the Star Theatre these evenings will surely thrill at the amount of ice and in the tense situations that come with each turn in the story. In the title role is Lila Lee, whose fine achievement marks the production as one of the most artistic that Paramount artists have starred in. Elliot Dexter leads opposite her in the character of the reckless lover.

PORT ARTHUR RUMOUR.

Japanese Embassy Denies Sensational Story.

Publicity has recently been given in the Press states the Japanese Embassy in London to a report of a man's forthcoming trial at Berne on the charge of attempting to obtain money on the strength of a claim on the Japanese Government for a large sum, alleged to be the price for the betrayal of Port Arthur.

In view of certain published comments on this affair, proving the existence of a belief in the genuineness of certain documents and denying that the word "swindle" can be justifiably applied to the affair, the Japanese Embassy desires to confirm its statement that the documents are undoubtedly forgeries.

If anyone in this country wants to obtain evidence, for use in a court of law, of the spuriousness of the documents, the Japanese Embassy is prepared to furnish the necessary information.—Daily Chronicle, Aug. 29.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

When the history of these post-war years comes to be written, perhaps a place will be reserved for our read-making efforts, says the Daily Chronicle. Not since the Romans invaded England has there been such an organised building of new arterial roads—all urgently needed to carry the increasing volume of fast and heavy motor traffic. The roads of our peace-era will be notable chiefly for their width. Nearly all of them are about 100 feet wide, with a building line 20 to 25 feet back on either side, thus giving a total width of 140 to 160 feet across.

At Deauville, the swaggar eye-glass has been much in evidence lately. It is strange how a mechanical device for aiding the partially blind should have become a sign of foppiness. Because, you should remember, Mr. Chamberlain, like Lord Chaplin and Sir Squire Bancroft, is really short-sighted, in one eye only, as was his father; and so were John Bright, Matthew Arnold, W. H. Smith, and Whistler, all of whom wore the eye-glass for actual use. In spite of the eye-glass, one can hardly imagine John Bright as a fop, or, for that matter, Matthew Arnold. Yet, by many people, the eye-glass is regarded as the trade mark of the "Super Nut," whose one aim in life is, in the words of the song, to "keep his belly eye-glass in his eye."

GERMANY'S FOREIGN TRADE.

A Swedish View.

Much has been heard of German activity in pushing foreign trade, largely by the aid of the exchange rate. In this connection a letter from a Swedish business man representing German firms in his country is published by the Herforder Tageblatt, to which our attention has been directed by Messrs. Carl Crow, Inc., of Shanghai. The following is the essential part of the communication, which states the case in a different light from that which has obtained considerable currency.

"As a result of the experience which I have had for some time past through my rather wide connections with the German industries, particularly in the electrical branch, I feel it to be my duty, as your representative of long years standing, to draw your attention to the fact that a resolute change in tactics of German manufacturers and merchants is absolutely necessary, to enable the customers to preserve their former confidence or—what would be more correct to say—to recover it. Otherwise the prospects for continuing business here shall become minimal, as it is only natural that customers should turn to such firms, of which the quotations, the specifications and the terms of delivery can be relied upon.

"People here seem not to be able to explain the methods of German exporters having so completely changed as compared with pre-war time. The explanation is thought to be found in the assumption that Germany is standing before a collapse and that therefore the individual firms do not know for certain, what to do and that due to this fact everything is unstable and fluctuating. How much the authorities must be blamed for that, is beyond my knowledge, but that the explanation is to be sought not only in that direction, appears to be quite clear from the fact, that in the very same specialty one firm has such a policy and another firm quite an opposite one. It is known, that since a long time—sometimes under the pressure of the local authorities—offers were submitted quite extensively from Germany and order received in Kronor, whereby, as we know, it quite well and can calculate it, very good prices for German prevailing conditions have been achieved. This policy of price quotations is being explained by the fact that the German mark will continue to fall still more and consequently the Swedish krona will rise in proportion. If it happens however, that for a day or so the contrary takes place, the German manufacturers reverse the whole policy upside down. A wild panic strikes them. The prices quoted are forcibly raised, orders cancelled and all kinds of difficulties made.

"In any way, it is clear that under such circumstances business here in Sweden is not possible. The Swedish, English and American competition, which anyhow could quite well hold their own, are sticking to their offers when concluding the business. In my opinion, for a considerable length of time, German manufacturers are obsessed by completely erroneous conceptions in many respects. First, one thinks in Germany, that we here in Sweden can pay any prices, regardless of whether in Marks or in Kronor; secondly, that there is here a shortage of commodities and thirdly (at least in many cases) that only German manufacturers come into consideration. All these conceptions are fundamentally wrong. The observation to the first point is, that naturally one pays here only what the goods can be worth and in correspondence to the market conditions and competition prices. The fact that the rate of exchange is low cannot justify, for instance, quite fantastic prices in Marks (recently a German firm requested from me 1,000 Marks for quite ordinary spectacles, another firm sold me exactly the same spectacles for one-third of the mentioned price). With regard to the third point I will only say that according to German official statistics exports from Germany to Sweden have fallen off quite considerably for the last year, which beyond any doubt is due to the policy of prices and offers, as well as to the execution of orders. This has brought relief in many cases to the Swedish industry (what from a Swedish point of view is of course encouraging), although wages here, which are approximately equivalent to 100

Marks per hour, are so high that the German industry should indeed be able to compete very easily. Also the foreign competition, which formerly did not come into consideration, has gained ground without difficulties. It makes here a very strange impression, that presently there is absolutely no uniformity in German business methods. From differing places come quotations for exactly the same articles, differing from each other in an extraordinary way sometimes on 100 or 200. From one party prices are received in Marks, from another one—in Kronor, both parties indicating that this is done in accordance with regulations issued by authorities. If explanation is asked about the difference in prices, one received the most contradicting replies. Sometimes, for instance, it is stated, that the price has been fixed by the Foreign Trade Board; at the same time other factories quote and deliver without any hindrance, probably at half the price.

"Furthermore, Swedish customers have to a great extent all reasons to complain of the way orders have been executed by German firms in the last years. And not only because these firms refuse at all to carry out orders at fixed prices mutually agreed upon. But also a gross negligence is observed in carrying out deliveries. This is particularly striking as in olden times one has been accustomed to the highest strictness and punctuality on the part of German firms. Whether this change should be attributed to the psychological results of the war is beyond my judgment, however, it remains a fact. It must create the impression with foreign customers, that German business men have either lost their organization talent, or their business vision, or both—more or less. It is true and we know it here that just now conditions in Germany are extremely difficult, extraordinary conditions cannot even partly be brought forward as an explanation. Should not a radical change in many respects take place. German firms would very little be justified in spending their efforts and money with the purpose of booking orders here.

"Already by their methods of making quotations and in other cases by their ways of carrying out orders, German export firms are working hard to definitely expel themselves from business. Finally I should add that the manner in which Swedish visitors are treated for a considerable length of time when travelling in Germany, does not help to stimulate sympathies for Germany and German connections, particularly so that during the war Sweden has in no way shown any animosity towards Germany and later on made endeavours to help her in many respects."

SHIPPING NEWS.

ANOTHER GERMAN LINER FOR THE FAR EAST.

Another German vessel belonging to the Hamburg-America Line, is due to arrive in Shanghai on her maiden voyage on or about December 11. She is the motor ship Ermland, sister ship of the Munsterland, which has already paid a visit to Shanghai. This vessel, which was completed this year in Hamburg, is fitted with two Diesel motors, of 2,300 h.p. each. She is manned by a crew of 38, all Germans. She has a gross tonnage of 6,314, is 463 feet long, and capable of 12 knots. She has accommodation for 12 passengers.

ENGLISH MARINE INSURANCE IN NORWAY.

Norges Handelsbank announces that the Royal Exchange Assurance Corporation, the Prudential Assurance Company, and the Cornhill Insurance Company have resolved to undertake direct insurance activity in Norway. The general agency for these companies has been taken over by the firm of Thelersen and Elmsberg, of Christiania, which firm will continue the marine and reinsurance business carried on by Mr. J. Molbach Thelersen since 1888, as well as the reinsurance business of Mr. Hjalmar Elmsberg, who are the partners in the firm in question.

NEW NORTH SEA MAP.

The Hydrographical Service of the French Navy has published a new chart of the North Sea which should be appreciated by navigators. Its details are drawn from British and Danish charts, coupled with data supplied by recent investigation conducted by the French Fisheries Scientific Bureau. The territorial limits are shown by a red line, while shades of blue indicate differences of 20 metres in depths. Insets drawn to larger scale show the six principal foreign ports frequented by French fishing boats. Panoramic views show the user the appearance of approaches to these ports in relation to neighbouring lighthouses, and, where necessary, special signs indicate tidal limits and currents.

EIGHT HOURS' LAW.

A recent cable stated that the French Government had abandoned the 8-hour shipping measure. The following communication from the Paris correspondent of the Journal of Commerce is of interest in this connection: That the French Government is fully determined to adopt measures that may help to lessen the difficulties of national shipping is evidenced by recent events. The seamen, who appear to be as firmly determined as ever that no legislation or order-in-council shall restrict their rights, as defined by the existing Eight Hours Law, claim that the Government should institute shipping premiums. The finances of the country make such a step impossible. M. Rio, Under-Secretary of State for the Merchant Marine, speaking at an important banquet at Belle-Ile-en-Mer, recalled that the seamen could expect no support from their comrades of other nations if they declared a strike. On the contrary, France would lose more carrying trade to the benefit of these nations. "Foreign seamen," he said, "are prepared to look on if the strike breaks out in France. A strike would be so much profit for their countries. These would find it to their interest even to subsidize a strike movement here. Economic conditions as they are now are enough by themselves to bring misery along our shores. Our seamen would be committing a crime if they voluntarily increased it. I would remind the secretary of the Seamen's Union of his promise of March, 1922, at the dinner given by the Mixed International Commission. After Mr. Cuthbert Laws had declared that British shipping would never adopt the eight-hours system Rivelli (the French secretary) replied in these exact words: 'We shall do all we can to make this law international. But if our efforts are not successful the Inscrutable Maritimes have enough patriotism not to place in a disadvantageous position the service from which they obtain their bread.'"

"The moment for this has come," added M. Rio. "Foreign seamen have made their views public. The French shipowners and the Government will not relinquish their present attitude. The Inscrutable Maritimes must know, therefore, that in the face of such opposition any movement, such as they propose, would be vain and worthless. I call upon M. Rivelli to keep his word, when he gave spontaneously and of his own accord."

TIME SIGNALS.

The time ball on Kowloon Signal Hill is dropped daily at 10 a.m. and 4 p.m., except on Saturdays when it is dropped at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m., and on Sundays and Holidays when it is dropped at 10 a.m. only.

The ball is hoisted half mast at the 55th minute and full mast at the 57th minute. Should the ball fail to drop at the correct time, it will be lowered at five minutes past the hour and the ordinary routine repeated at following hour, if possible.

Should the time ball be out of order the above routine will be carried out with flag "Z" on the storm signal mast.

The signal are also given at night by means of three white lamps mounted vertically on the Observatory wireless mast. From 8h. 55m. 0s. to 9h. 0m. 0s. p.m. the lamps are extinguished momentarily at the even seconds except at the 2nd, 23rd, 50th, 52nd, and 54th of each minute.

The hours refer to Hongkong Standard Time (8 hours of time Greenwich).
